MEMPRICA INTRLESCRICE. The Bullstin of the 16th contains the particuars of another serious fire on Madison street. Richmond Examiner of the 13th:

We gave in our Sunday morning issue an seflow. At that time the only buildings which and been destroyed were the plaining mill of Messrs. Whipple & Reed, which stood on Madion street on the bank of the bayou, and a two fore as yet unable to determine tory frame dwelling next, adjoining on the vest, owned by Weston Wright, and occupi by Mr. Spivey as a dwelling and a cleaning an lying establishment. The loss on these two ulldings probably amounted to seven thousand foliars. About nine o'clock the wind began to blow and soon the rains of the dwelling house began to blaze up again. About the same time a small rooden building, used as a carpenter's shop, or the other side of the bayou, was also discover to be on fire. Whether this caught from sparks or was set on fire, is doubtful, those present ex pressing different opinions about it. From thi building the flames communicated to a black smith's shop adjoining, and thence to anothe frame dwelling, one part of which was occupied were totally destroyed, scarcely anything being saved from any of them. In the meantime the fire had caught the dwel ing of Mr. Daniel Boisseau, a neat two-story frame house, belonging to Mr James Adams, eashier of the Union Bank. This was totally lestroyed, but most of the contents were saved On this house there had been an insurance of five housand dellars, which expired at noon on Satrday, the day preceding the fire.

In consequence of the great scarcity of water and the lack of an efficient fire department, ittle could be done to stay the progress of the flames, and the firemen and citizens could only irect their efforts to saving the property in the Next to the dwelling of Mr. Boisseau stood a very pretty frame dwelling belonging to Mr. Wm. H. Chandler, druggist, on Main street, and occupied by him as a winter residence. A the fime of the fire, Mr. Chandler and family were absent in the country, and the house was coupled only by some of his servants. A portion of the property in this house was saved. The building itself was totally destroyed. The loss here was something over two thousand dol-

The next building was a fine three story brick lock, containing two dwellings, finished in the best style, forming two of the finest houses in the city. This property was also owned by Mr. Chandler, and cost about $18,000. It has been built but a few years. The house was intended o be fire-proof, and for a long time there was hopes that it might be saved. The fire at last aught, however, in the kitchens and servant's uarters in the rear, which were of wood, and here being no means of checking it, it finally worked its way through the rear windows into the main building.
